PRLog (Press Release) – Jan 31, 2011 – Rover Technology Fusions Announces New International Strategic Partner

(Tampa, FL – February 1, 2011) – Rover Technology Fusions (RTF), the leader in forms driven workflow solutions, RoverINK, announced their newest value added partnership today, eCompliance Management Solutions, Inc. of Canada. Expected to be a distinguished guest at the Distributech 2011 conference, Booth #2050, eCompliance has long been the leader of Occupational Health & Safety (OHS) Management solutions in Canada.

“Their prestigious list of clients and customer centric business philosophy speaks for itself. We are completely synergistic in our approach to solving business problems, maintaining a high level of customer satisfaction, and delivering, not just state of the art technology solutions, but a high level of consultative domain expertise to the customers we serve.” said Robert Letzeisen, Executive Vice President. “We are proud that eCompliance has selected RTF and the RoverINK workflow products, including our digital pen and paper solutions powered by Anoto, to further their presence in the market bringing new opportunities for enhanced safety, compliance, and profits to their customers” he went on to say.

Ben Snyman, President and CEO of eCompliance, shared his thoughts after the partnership was solidified. “Our motto is, “Total Commitment to Customer Success!” This intense customer focus drives our commitment to customer and partnership relations, quality of services, product development and is the reason we devote a substantial portion of our resources and time to R&D; both in the technology and OHS sphere. We continually work to create innovate knowledge-driven, standardized tools and systems that raise the bar as to how Health & Safety Risks are measured, managed and mitigated. Our partnership with Rover and the ability to deliver and integrate the RoverINK products for our customers will help catapult our business growth and further establish eCompliance as the premier provider of computing solutions and services within the areas we serve today and our plans for tomorrow. When you look for the right partnerships, technology, products, people, and executive commitment to the customer are all paramount in reaching sound business decisions, we feel like we have found all of these cornerstones with RTF”.
